Enough Already with the Low-Carb Mania; How About Eating Less and Exercising More?

By ACSH Staff — June 15, 2004

From a June 14 Mercury News editorial:

"There are just four words for weight control: calories in, calories out," said Dr. Ruth Kava, director of nutrition for the American Council on Science and Health.

The full article can be found at: