

Dr. Ross makes a House Call

By ACSH Staff — June 13, 2011

ACSH's Dr. Gilbert Ross made a guest appearance on Dr. Barry Dworkin's radio show, Sunday House Call, which can be heard here [1]. The two spoke at great length about today's often media-driven and pervasive fear of chemicals chemophobia particularly in reference to pesticides and vaccines. Dr. Ross advised viewers to look beyond the newspaper headlines to distinguish between agenda-pushing media outlets and those that are interested in reporting scientifically sound information.
