

No e-cig ban in Canton, MA: A win for public health (and for ACSH)

By ACSH Staff — August 13, 2013

The Canton MA Board of Health, acting in a responsible manner after hearing from devotees of public health from all around the nation, decided not to ban electronic cigarettes [2] (e-cigarettes) while raising the age to purchase tobacco products from 18 to 21. As many of you know, ACSH was among those organizations [3] and individuals who made their opinions known, and we received a gracious acknowledgment of our message from John Ciccotelli, Canton's Public Health Director. Good job, Canton!
