Health News: GM mosquitoes, moderate drinking OK, & breast cancer awareness

By ACSH Staff — January 26, 2015

The latest in health news: GM mosquitoes to be unleashed to fight painful diseases, a drink a day may keep the cardiologist away, and women battling cancer often unsure what type of tumor they are fighting